Fiscal Court Gives Complete Authority To Citizens Committee To Handle Road Tax Fund

At its regular meeting Tuesday the Madison County Fiscal Court, took action, which delegates complete authority to the Special Citizens' Committee to handle the special road tax fund, if voted by the people on Nov. 7th.

Such action means that not a nickel of the money that may be raised will be spent except under the direct supervision of a group of the most prominent and experienced business men of the county. No possible better guarantee could be given the people that every cent of their money will be properly expended under the most careful and economical supervision. They are assured of a dollar's worth for every dollar. The members of the Citizens' Committee are men who have the entire confidence of the community and the fact that they and they alone are to control the expenditure of the special road tax fund, if voted, will undoubtedly mean strong support for the question all over the county. The people want good roads built and are willing to vote their money for them, especially when they have such strong assurance that they are to get their money's worth. The action of the Fiscal Court in turning the special road tax fund over to the Citizens' Committee, which is composed of Quin Covington, J. H. Dean, John L. Gay, A. H. Hamilton, A. B. Howard, M. C. Kellogg, W. E. Park, R. M. Rowland, R. E. Turley and R. G. Woods, as taken at the meeting Tuesday was as follows:

Richmond, Kentucky,
October 3, 1922.

To The Voters of Madison County:

As regards the building of State Aid Highways—under the law as at present, same having become effective at the last session of the State Legislature, all work done on such Highways must be let by competitive bid, the work then proceeding to completion under the direct supervision of the State Highway Department, which Department has charge of the planning of the work before contract is let in consideration with those in the County authorized to act in the matter, that is, as to location, type of construction, extent of work to be done, etc. The law makes it impossible for the State to employ any of its road building machinery or force, other than Engineers, or for the State to enter into any contract with the County to employ any of the County's forces on such work.

Th undersigned have appointed a Committee of Citizens, in whom we have the utmost confidence, for the specific purpose of administering the proceeds of the proposed 20c Road Tax, if voted. To this Committee we propose to turn over, as a separate fund, to be kept as a separate account, this 20c Tax collected, and will expect same expended only for the purpose, as stated, of meeting the State and Federal Aid on the Tates Creek, Boone, Lexington-McKee, Lexington, Lancaster and Irvine Pike—inter-County Seat projects.

Under the law at present, we, the County Judge, the Fiscal Court and the County Road Engineer, cannot, if we would, have anything to say as to the construction of these State-Aid Inter-County State Highways. After the kind, location, and extent of the improvement is fixed, our only duty is to pay for our part as called on by the State. When the work is completed, the State, and not Madison County, is responsible for the maintenance and keeping in condition of State Aid Roads, and all of the expense or same.

As an evidence of our confidence in the Committee we have appointed, and in order that this whole proposition may be made as clear as possible, we hereby pledge ourselves, individually and collectively, to abide absolutely by the recommendations of this Committee as to the above project in any way, and promise that their judgment shall be final and binding on us in any matter connected with the spending of the revenue from this proposed 20c—six year, Road Tax.

RIISING BALL PLAYER TO COVER THIRD

Through some fine playing with the Columbia Mining Company of near Hazard, this summer, Clayton Mainous, popular Normal student, has been selected as the third baseman to perform against the Louisville Colonels in their exhibition game here Oct. 12. He played on the Eastern team in two of the years in which Combs was the star performer. Combs covered short while Mainous played beside him at the hot corner. He knows Combs' style and has put in some hard work with this drawing card. Mainous was the fastest fielding member of the Eastern team last spring but did not show up so well with the slick. He overcame this weakness, however, while playing in the mountains this summer, hitting well above the coveted .300 mark. He has been playing regularly and is in fine condition for the game. Mainous as well as all of the rest of the boys are keyed up for the contest which they have a fine possibility of winning.

Manager Hise is getting everything down to a fine point, and is almost ready to make a definite announcement regarding his lineup. The local fans are watching the work of Clef Tatum, who will pitch the game, with much interest. They were very pleased to learn that he slant out the fast Dixie Lee Cream nine from Lexington last Saturday while pitching for the Paint Lick nine. The boys expect to get out on the Normal diamond a few days before the big doings and see how things will seem. All have been playing the entire summer and are in the pink of condition. Bring on the Colonels!

CIRCUIT COURT IS CLEANING UP DOCKET

Judge Shackelford is keeping the circuit court working hard on criminal cases that are before it, so that the docket may be well cleared up by the next time the court comes here for trial from Bell county next week.

Joe Kelly caught a dose of $200 and 60 days on a charge of violating the prohibition laws, and Owen Kelly was given the same. Loyd Webb was found not guilty of shooting on the public highway. George Goodloe failed to appear and his bond was forfeited and he was fined $100 for permitting a minor to play pool. For the same offense Wright Hamilton was also fined $100. The case as to Ed Ritter, who worked for Hamilton, was dismissed. Curt Terrill was acquitted of violation of the prohibition law. Lonnie West was given $50 fine and 10 days on a charge of carrying concealed, a deadly weapon.

The court was occupied most of the day with trial of Terry Moses Perkins, charged with attempting to detain Mrs. Jim H. Jones. This case was being hard fought with a number of lawyers on each side.

At the opening of the court, Tuesday, three new attorneys were sworn in as members of the local bar, Judge W. K. Price, Owen Hise and B. Z. McKinney.

HUSBAND AND WIFE IN PISTOL ARGUMENT

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 4.—Mrs. Cleo Mathena, 29, is in a hospital here today with bullet wound in her abdomen. Her condition is serious. Her husband, James, is in jail. Police say the couple engaged in a pistol duel this morning at their home here. Mathena today said they "had a little too much to drink last night that's all." He asserted his wife "is one of the best scouts in the world." He added they have been living together 15 years and never had any trouble. Their son, Marion, 12, also has a wound in his leg. The wife asserts Mathena quarreled with her about money. Angered, she seized a pistol, she said, and fired twice in the air. Mathena said she shot at him. "That was no way to do," he said and declared he got his pistol in order to "stop her."

DODGERS TRIUMPH OVER NICHOLASVILLE

After their 10 to 0 victory over the Nicholasville eleven last Sunday the Dodgers are preparing to take a trip to Paris where they hope to continue their winnings. The game with the Paris eleven may be played next Saturday. This local team, for boys 15 years of age and younger, made quite a record last year and hope to continue their good work this season.

The game Saturday was a clean cut victory, coming as the result of a touchdown scored by Captain Pearson and a drop kick from the field on the part of Hugh Young. In scoring the touchdown Captain Pearson plunged thru center for ten yards. Young kicked goal after touchdown over the line of scrimmage. He also dropped a pretty kick for three additional points. The line-up:

Nicholasville: Bettes center; Boone guard; Buelford guard;
